Disaster in Ireland.

A Serious Accident on a Railroad.

SEVENTY-TWO PEOPLE KILLED.

An Excursion Train Loaded With Children Destroyed in a Collision—It is Believed That at Least Four Hundred Were Injured.

DUBLIN, June 13.—An excursion train containing a large number of passengers was thrown from the track near Armagh Wednesday morning. The cars were reduced to splinters, and a number of persons were killed. The number of wounded is not definitely known, but it is large, and some of the injured will die.

The railroad accident near Armagh is without a parallel in the history of railroading in Ireland. The train carrying the Sunday school excursion bound for the popular little seaside resort of Warrenspoint was made up of two sections, and fully 12,000 children and their relatives and teachers were on board. This train, a short distance out of Armagh, was ascending a steep grade to a bank that rises to a height of fifty feet, when the engine of the rear section gave out and was unable to draw the heavy train.

In some way, which is not now clearly understood, several of the rear cars became detached from the balance of the train and started down the steep grade. In a few seconds the cars were going down hill at a terrific rate of speed, with the brakes either utterly useless, or from negligence on the part of the guard, without proper attention. Had the track on the level just below the grade been clear for any considerable distance, the detached cars might have lost their momentum and the terrible accident that followed been averted, but, unfortunately, the regular train from Armagh followed just behind the rear section of the excursion train, and with the locomotive of this train the detached cars came into collision with terrific force, wrecking the locomotive as well as the cars themselves.

The scenes at the wreck immediately after the accident were heartrending in the extreme. The rear section of the excursion train, from which the ill-fated cars had become detached was stopped after proceeding but a short distance and the passengers, as well as those of the forward section, soon ran back to render assistance to the little children in the wrecked cars, where maimed and mangled bodies showed symptoms of life. The dead and the dying little ones were scattered in inextricable confusion among the jagged timbers and twisted iron work of the wreck, and the groans of the imprisoned sufferers mingled in an awful din with the shrieks of their more fortunate companions who stood by powerless to afford assistance.

People from the surrounding country flocked to the scene, and set to work to remove the victims from the wreck. Physicians were summoned by telegraph from Belfast and other points and attended to the wants of the injured, while the dead were taken from the ruins as fast as possible and placed in rows upon the grass.

The engineer, fireman and guard of the rear section of the excursion train and the traffic manager's clerk were arrested, charged with causing the accident, and remanded without bail.

The passengers on the hind train were not injured. They alighted and assisted in the work of relief. The scenes on the identification of victims by friends or relatives were painful in the extreme. All the bodies have now been taken from the wreck. The total killed are seventy-two, of which sixty-four have been identified.

The number of injured is about one-third of the entire number of passengers. Many of these are certain to succumb to the effects of their injuries.

Sounds Cheerfully.

VIENNA, June 13.—The Tageblatt publishes a special dispatch from Belgrade stating that a plot had been discovered in the royal palace at the Servian capital to dethrone Alexander and proclaim the pretender, Prince Peter Karageorgievitch, son-in-law of the prince of Montenegro, king of Servia.

Partial Remains of Three Persons Found.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.—In the public dump, southwest of the city, yesterday, the partial remains of three persons were found. It was ascertained that the remains came from the Columbus medical college. It is believed that the law requires that such remains shall be buried, and if such requirement is not made by law, the law should be amended so as to require it. A public dump is certainly not the place to dispose of such matter.

Railroad Collision.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 13.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning two freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad collided. Joseph McKean, aged 22, of Hagerstown, brakeman, was killed. Both engines were telescoped and there was scarcely a car of either train that escaped injury. Travel was suspended nine hours. The engineer of the southbound train claims that the telegraph operator here was at fault.

Bank Assigns.

WAHPETON, Dak., June 13.—The Bank of Wahpeton, W. J. Van Doever, president, assigned yesterday to J. W. Blanding. There had been a heavy run on the bank. Assets and liabilities unknown.

The Sangamon River on a Tear.

DECATUR, Ill., June 12. — Unprecidented high water in the Sangamon river has done considerable damage to levees and destroyed crops in the bottom.

A CONFLAGRATION.

Great Damage Done by Flames at Grinnell, Iowa.

GRINNELL, Iowa, June 13.—Fire broke out at 12:30 yesterday in Treat & Company's elevator on the town side of the Rock Island track, situated in the southwest part of town. A brisk wind was blowing from the southwest, and the flames spread rapidly to adjacent buildings and soon reached the heart of the business center of the town. The fire department was slow in getting in action, and after water was finally turned upon the roaring flames it was powerless to stay its course. Aid was summoned from Brooklyn and Marshalltown, but it was two hours in getting here, and was entirely too late to render assistance.

Forty-one business houses were burned, comprising nearly all the business portion of the city. The losses so far foot up $100,000, and the insurance $75,000. The stocks of goods were largely saved, being piled up in the park and placed under guard of Company G, third regiment of state militia.

The heaviest losers are Treat & Company, elevator, $6,000; Bowler Brothers, hardware, $9,000; Herald printing office, $10,000; Morrison McIntosh & Company, glove factory, $10,000; Arthur Seaman, $5,000; Cass & Wirbs, $12,500; H. P. Proctor, $14,500; J. G. Johnson & Company, $4,000.

Grinnell was devastated by a cyclone seven years ago. About seventy-five houses was blown down and forty people killed.

JUDGE LYNCY.

Former Lemay's Assailants in the Hands of a Mob.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13.—On Friday night last near Corydon, Ind., James Deavin and Charles Tennyson attempted to burglarize the residence of James Lemay. Lemay resisted, and was shot through the body and dangerously, but not fatally, wounded. A niece of Mr. Lemay was also seriously shot, but not fatally.

The men were arrested in New Albany, and afterward transferred to Corydon, the county seat of Harrison county. Since their arrival at Corydon threats of lynching have been prevalent, and they are likely to be put in effect. At 1:15 this morning the Journal's Corydon correspondent telegraphed: "About 200 men have just taken Deavin and Tennyson out of jail, and they will be lynched in a few minutes."

Will Act in Concert.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The employes of Carnegie's Homestead mills have positively declined to accept or be governed by the scale of wages submitted by the firm, and have so reported to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers' convention now in session here. The Amalgamated convention has resolved unanimously to sustain the mill men. The employes have also resolved that should the firm attempt to discharge any of the day laborers and fill their places with new men in order that they may learn something of the duties of the skilled workmen prior to July 1, the time the Carnegie scale is to go into effect, they will stop work immediately.

It Must Go.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The National Association of Cigarmakers and Packers, at its last session, decided to have labels of the organization registered in every state, in order to secure protection. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: N. T. M. W., Anthony Seninger, of Pittsburg; N. T. W. F., Henry Gruber, of Jersey City; N. T. R and F. S., Albert Hoffman, of Covington, Ky.; treasurer, Joseph Richardson, of Hamilton, Ont. Executive board, Joseph Richardson, H. C. Gruber, Aug. W. Beambach, of Milwaukee; Henry Wichtedahl, of New York; John Fernan, of Pittsburg, and T. L. Davis, of Baltimore.

Looking for Relief.

NEW YORK, June 13.—At a meeting of the finance committee of the relief fund for the Conemaugh valley a resolution was adopted that in view of the large amount of money in the hands of the committee unappropriated, Gen. W. T. Sherman, chairman of the executive committee, be invited to go to Harrisburg and confer with Governor Beaver as to the situation, not only at Johnstown, but in other parts of the state where the loss of life and property has been greatest, and where the most aid is required. Money is still coming in rapidly.

Cut Nail Association Goes to Pieces.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 13.—The regular monthly meeting of the Cut Nail association, held here yesterday, adjourned without being able to come to any agreement whatever, looking either to a curtailment of production or a change in the selling schedule. One of the mills gave notice that it would probably not be represented at the next meeting. The feeling seems to be that the association is mutually dissolved for the present.

Fell With a Defective Scaffold.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The scaffolding in the power house, in course of construction for the new West Side cable road, fell from overweight yesterday afternoon, carrying with it a dozen or more bricklayers, eight of whom were badly injured, and were conveyed to the hospital. The scaffolding was thirty-five feet high, and was too lightly constructed for the quantity of building material placed upon it.

Rich Newspaper Men.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Hon. Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune and daughter, A. M. Palmer, theatrical manager, Tony Pastor and wife, Hon Thomas Sherman, United States consul at Liverpool, sailed for Europe yesterday by the steamship City of Paris. Among the passengers on the steamship Aller for Bremen, was the Countess Arco Valley.

State Takes Charge.

Johnstown Being Rapidly Restored.

VERY SLOW AND TEDIOUS WORK.

It Is Now Almost Ascertained How Many Lives Were Lost at Johnstown—Requisition on Pittsburg for Food Immediately Responded To.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 13. — Gen. Hastings to-day distributed the work to be performed among a number of contractors who are already prepared with men, teams and appliances to push the work with vigor. Gen. Hastings has to-day proved himself equal to the occasion, and if his plans are carried out, the restoration of Johnstown is assured, and that before very long.

But very little outside work was accomplished, but by to-morrow the labor of clearing the wreck will be resumed with determination. Col. H. T. Douglass, chief of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineering corps, reported to Gen. Hastings and tendered his services. After a consultation with Gen. Hastings Col. Douglass was placed in charge of all of the engineering features connected with the task the state has undertaken.

To facilitate matters the valley has been divided into districts. Number one includes Cambria City and all points below the railroad bridge down to Morrellville. Five hundred men in charge of Contractor Ridge, of Pittsburg, will work on this division.

The gorge at the viaduct will be known as divison No. 2, and will be cleared up by James McKnight, of Pittsburg. Mr. McKnight will use twenty hoisting machines, twenty teams and 700 men to begin with. Nearly all of the city of Johnstown and that part west of, is included in Division No. 3, and will be taken care of by Coburn & Mitchell, of Altoona, with F. Lafeland, engineer. Division No. 4 includes Conemaugh, and will be taken care of by McLain & Johnson, of Pittsburg. Kerrville is the fifth district, and Samuel McKnight has undertaken to clear it up. Each district will be under the supervision of a competent civil engineer.

Col. Douglass, the chief engineer in charge of the work, says the cost of clearing the valley won't be more than a half a million dollars. He could not estimate just how long it would take.

Relief From Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—Yesterday the following order was received from Commissary General Spangler, at Johnstown. Please ship at once 100,000 pounds of fresh bread, 20,000 pounds to be shipped each day for five days, 10,000, via Baltimore and Ohio, and 10,000 via Pennsylvania railroad, 8,000 quart cans of tomatoes, half via Baltimore and Ohio and half via Pennsylvania railroad, 4,000 quart cans of corn, ditto; 10 barrels of vinegar, ditto, 2,000 boxes pepper, ditto; 60 bushels onions, ditto; 100 cheeses, ditto. The emergency is very great, and unless shipments begin today there will be a famine in this entire valley.

Orders were placed within a few minutes for the entire amount of the requisition, amounting to about $8,000, and the first shipment was made yesterday. In this connection Mr. Reuben Miller remarked that such orders as this one furnished the best refutation needed of the reports current that there is a superabundance of supplies at Johnstown, and every reason why contributions should be continued right along for the present.

After to-day the railroads leading to Johnstown will be relieved of the embargo placed upon them by the general relief committee, and people can come and go at pleasure without first securing the special order and a handful of passes that have been necessary. Contributions to the relief fund continue to come in with encouraging regularity, but the amounts are growing smaller.

Fear is expressed that the action of the governor in undertaking to take entire charge of the distribution of the fund, will tend to interfere with subscriptions. Up to last night the amount received by the treasurer was $505,640.

Word was received yesterday evening that Contractor William Flinn, who is still in Johnstown, had been taken suddenly and seriously ill.

The work of paying the workmen was completed at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. About $110,000 was distributed among them. Nearly of them were provided with transportation to this city.

Official Figures.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 13.—The bureau of registration reported to-day that 15,678 survivors have registered. Many registered twice, and some a half dozen times, which caused the list to run up to 21,000. For the past twenty-four hours there have been very few names registered, scarcely more than a score, showing that the work is nearing completion. The number of bodies recovered is 1,192, of which 628 have been identified.

As Reported to Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The following message has been received from L. S. Emery, the agent sent by the Washington relief committee to Johnstown:

"City is under military control from this morning. If they co-operate with the citizens in giving employment and distributing relief will be an improvement. The military have been essential in protecting property and maintaining good order. The sanitary condition is necessarily bad, but no epidemic is apprehended yet. I have worked assiduously aiding the distribution in a civilized way. All was confusion at first, and the longest and strongest arms got the most. One carload of goods, with others, was taken possession of by employes of a contractor, and I was obliged to call the soldiers to protect it until delivered to the proper authorities."

The relief fund now exceeds $50,000.

Will He Be Sustained.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—A Harrisburg special to The Times says; Governor Beaver and his cabinet have become dissatisfied with this scheme to take $1,000,000 out of the state treasury to pay the expenses of clearing away the Johnstown wreck. Offers to endorse his bonds are few and far between, and he will probably try to raise enough money to pay the expense by loans from citizens who will take the chance that the legislature when it meets in 1891 will reimburse them.

THE CRONIN AFFAIR.

What Took Place Just After Sullivan Was Arrested.

CHICAGO, June 13.—When Alexander Sullivan appeared in the court room, shortly after 4 o'clock, and made a dignified bow to the bench, he was as cool as a cucumber. To see his calm face, his self-possessed air, his spotless linen and faultless attire, no one would have imagined that he had been taken from his bed the night before and confined the interval in a not over inviting cell in the county jail.

At the outset State's Attorney Longenecker filed a demurrer to the proceedings on the ground that the evidence against Sullivan had not been incorporated in the petition for the writ of habeas corpus, but it was soon developed that the opinion he cited in support of the position had been rendered twelve years before the enactment of the present habeas corpus act. Stirring arguments in behalf of Sullivan's admission to bail were then made by A. S. Trude and ex-Senators Gilbert and Duncan.

They held that there was not a jot or tittle in the evidence presented at that inquest that justified the deprivation of Sullivan of his liberty; that a dog would not be judged on the mass of gossip and suspicion that went to make up the case against him, and that the verdict of the jury lacked coherency or definite character. In replying the state's attorney admitted that the case against Sullivan was not so strong as against some of the other prisoners, but objected to action being taken while the grand jury was considering the case.

Judge Tuley reviewed the situation at length. He said that on the facts presented he should be inclined to discharge the prisoner, were it not for the fact that the grand jury had the case in hand. The verdict was exceedingly indefinite and informal. The states attorney he thought should show that there was sufficient [illegible] prisoner. A long discussion ensued and finally, at Mr. Sullivans request Mr. Trude agreed to join issues with the state and let the judge read over the testimony taken at the inquest, Judge Tuley saying that he would consider it legally and without prejudice. Sullivan was then remanded to jail until 10 o'clock Friday morning, when the court will render a decision. If the evidence is not sufficient in the courts opinion, he can discharge the accused if no indictment is returned, and admit him to bail if there is an indictment.

The grand jury was in session for three hours yesterday, and listened to a repetition of some of the testimony given at the coroner's inquest.

Hatfield, the furniture salesman, is almost positive that the photograph of Maroney, under arrest in New York, is that of the man to whom he sold the goods found in the Carlson cottage. White, the expressman, is absolutely certain that it was Maroney that hired his wagon and carried the articles into the cottage. The Chicago detectives with requisition papers will reach New York to-morrow night.

Probably the Right Man.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Salesman Hatfield, of Alexander Revell & Company, has identified a photograph of John J. Maroney, who was arrested in New York yesterday as the man who bought the furniture for the apartments at 117 Clark street. Bookkeeper Throckmorton of the same firm said the photograph greatly resembled the man that bought the furniture, but he could not be positive.

A Mine Caves In.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 13.—The roof of the Hollenbeck mine, operated by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, caved in this morning with a terrible crash. The men and mules were gotten out safely and there was no loss of life. This disaster also affected the Hillman vein mine, operated by private individuals. Both mines are badly damaged, and it will take months to repair the Hollenbeck mine. There are big crevices in Madison street, within a square of the court house, and much gas is escaping and fears of an explosion are entertained. The cave-in is considered a very disastrous one, in its effect much valuable property on the surface being damaged. At 11 o'clock last night it was learned that five acres are affected. The cracks can now be traced 1,800 feet along Main street, underneath hundreds of houses, many of them being costly residences. The Hollenbeck employed 600 men, and the Hillman vein 400, most of which will be thrown out of work.

Newspaper Changes.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 13.—The Daily Herald, St. Joseph's morning Republican newspaper, has been sold to Maj. John L. Bittenger, of this city, who will assume control and be the editor next Monday. Maj. Bittinger was at one time an editor of The Kansas City Journal.

Nearly Half Million.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 13.—Additional contributions for the flood sufferers were received by the governor yesterday from all parts of the country. The total amount received to date is about $448,000.

Pension Decision.

An Important Document From Assistant Secretary Bussey.

PENSION OFFICE SUSTAINED.

A Small Transaction on an Interesting Subject to the People—Civil Service Examination — Several Other Interesting Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Assistant Secretary Bussey has rendered an important decision, sustaining the pension office in rejecting the claim of Elizabeth Small, as dependent mother of Henry Small. At the time of Henry Small's enlistment, both he and his mother were slaves in Maryland. The facts of the soldiers death are admitted and the whole question turned upon the matter of dependence. At the time Henry's enlistment Elizabeth Small's husband and six children were living. In her application her attorney urges that when her son enlisted the government took the place of his master, and that it should be held that the son's labor was a contribution to the common maintenance of all, and that in this sense a contribution to the support of his mother.

This view of the case Mr. Bussey says, is predicated upon a theory, In nubibus. Too obscure for diffusion. The fact is admitted in the case, that after Henry became free, he never contributed any of his pay toward his mothers support. No dependence in any sense being shown. Mr. Bussey rejects the claim and says it could only be granted as a matter of charity. The departments duty, he adds, is to execute the laws, it has no authority to legislate.

Latest From Hayti.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Important information bearing on the Haytian situation was received by cable at the navy department yesterday from Commander Kellogg, who was ordered to Port-au-Prince a few days ago, and has just returned to St. Nicholas Mole, whence the dispatch was sent. Secretary Tracy while admitting that a cablegram had been received from Hayti, declined to make its contents public on the ground that the navy department was acting simply as the agent of the state department. Any information concerning Haytian affairs, he said, must come from the state department.

The [illegible] admitted that a dispatch containing important news had been received, but they declined to say anything concerning it. It is said the Kearsarge, which is under preparatory orders for Hayti, has been ordered to prepare for sea at once. She will go under command of Admiral Gherardi.

Impossible This Time.

WASHINGTON, June 13. — Secretary Rusk who returned to Washington yesterday after a two week's absence in Wisconsin, returns to find himself overwhelmed with invitations to visit and address state agricultural organizations and fair associations throughout the country during the coming season. He doubts his ability to represent the department at some of the gatherings to which he has been invited, for the reason that much of his spare time will be required in maturing a plan of organization of the agricultural department, which he hopes to submit to the president in his annual report next fall. For this reason it will not be strange if the secretary is compelled to decline many invitations of this sort, which otherwise he might be glad to accept.

Civil Service Examination.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The civil service commission, in view of the examination to be held at the Marshville, Tenn., postoffice next Saturday, put out the following announcement:

"All examinations held under its auspices are strictly non-partisan in character. All qualified persons are invited to apply, whether Democrats or Republicans. They will be examined, marked and certified purely with references to their capacity. Political consideration will be allowed no weight whatever. The commission are determined to enforce the law in its letter and spirit; any employe of the government violating it will be most rigorously punished."

Looking for a Site.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Messrs. Watrous, Schwab and Lyons, a committee from New York chamber of commerce, appeared before Assistant Secretaries Batcheller and Dickenson and Supervising Architect Windrim yesterday and argued in favor of an up-town site for the proposed new appraiser's ware house in New York city, as against one on the Battery. They did not recommend the purchase of any particular site, but argued that the present site would be satisfactory to the chamber of commerce in preference to any place farther down town. The treasury commission took the matter under advisement.

All Right Now.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Capt. James Chester, of the Third artillery, who tried to commit suicide in the East river at New York, last month, while suffering from a fit of temporary aberration, has been ordered to inspect the Massachusetts agricultural college at Amherst, the Michigan military academy at Orchard Lake, and the Michigan agricultural college at Lansing. Capt. Chester has fully recovered from his attack.

Off for Europe.

SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS.

Such is Said to Be the Extent of a Great Engineering Work.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 13.—The famous viaduct, near South Fork, on the reconstruction of which 500 workmen have been engaged over a week, was completed yesterday afternoon, and at 6 o'clock the first engine crossed over it. The trestle is eighty-five feet high and 445 feet high. The rails have been laid for single track to Johnstown from the Fork. Grading will be completed in two days more, when traffic is expected to be open through to Pittsburg.

Testing a Gun.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 13.—The trial of the eight-inch carriage built for the navy department by the Pneumatic Gun Carriage and Powder company, of Washington, at the South Boston iron works was made yesterday. Twenty rounds were fired, ten slowly and ten rapidly, during which the carriage stood the test admirably. The gun was of the regulation eight inch, carrying a 250 pound shell and 126 pounds of powder. The recoil of the gun is received upon an air cushion and would take up very little room on shipboard. The recoil of the field piece of artillery would take up six to eight feet of space. The experiment showed that the pneumatic gun carriage could reduce the recoil to two feet. Some of the rapid firing shots were fired within a minute and a half interval of each other. No accidents occurred, and the test proved satisfactory.

A Considerate Governor.

There is a well authenticated old story of a governor at one of our penal settlements, who, having fixed the date when two of his convicts were to be hanged for stealing, remembered, a few days before the date named for the execution, that he had an important social engagement for that same afternoon. He sent for the men and explained to them his difficulty. "It cannot matter much to you," said he, "whether you are hanged on Tuesday or Wednesday next. It is, however, a matter of some moment to me, and you would greatly oblige me if you would consent to be hanged on Tues[illegible] in The Gazette." The men were inclined to stand on their rights, so he told them to think over the matter. They came to him the next morning and agreed to his wish on certain terms, which he readily accepted. The conditions were so much rum and so much tobacco for each day previous to their execution. A few days thus rendered happy were better to them than one more day of dreary existence on prison fare.—Gen. Wolseley in The Fortnightly Review.

Reforming Prisoners.

There is one fact in connection with prisoners and punishment that has been positively established; that is, that it is possible to transform these schools of crime into schools for reformation and education. The record of prisoners returned to prison after one term of service to the state has heretofore been from 80 to 90 per cent. This percentage has been reduced by the methods for mind and body culture adopted by the Elmira reformatory to 15. This 15 per cent. may yet be decreased farther when raw legislators will consent to let the expert managers quite alone, after giving them requisite state aid. The suppression of crime can be secured only by the suppression of criminals. They must be transformed into honest citizens.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Large Grape Vine.

The largest vine in the world is said to be one growing at Oyrs, Portugal, which has been in bearing since 1802. Its maximum yield was in 1864, in which year it produced a sufficient quantity of grapes to make 165 gallons of wine; in 1874, 146½ gallons, and in 1884 only 70½ gallons. It covers an area of 5,815 square feet, and the stem at the base measures 6½ feet in circumference.—New York Telegram

A Precocious Iowa Youngster.

A Second street mother discovered a pack of cards in the pocket of her young hopeful and threw it into a little bonfire in the back yard. She forgave the bright youngster when he attempted to tramp out the fire, singing the while: 'The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck."—Duluth Tribune

SWEETBRIER.

Oh, the magic, subtle spell
Of the sweet, old timey smell
Of the fragile, tinted petals of the sweetbrier blossoms fair;
It conjures up the ghost
Of a lovely time long lost
As it flings the spicy odors of its balm upon the air

And my dreamy fancy strays
Backward through the devious maze
That my feet have traveled over in the decades since the time
When I gathered flowers like these;
While the humming birds and bees
Their minor murmurings with the breezes mingle into rhyme.

Through the twilight's soft half gloom
Flutters in a faint perfume,
And a reminiscence blossoms from the ashes of the past:
Memories that never fade,
Blossoms that hath no or decayed,
Breathe again the sweet aroma of the joys that could not last.

And I love to loiter where
The blossoms fresh and fair
Climed and clung in copious loveliness and garnished all the place.
Oh, the forms that never more
Pass the lintel of the door
That those darling flowers garlanded with rare old fashioned grace!

'Mid the blooms of Paradise,
Where the palms in grandeur rise,
May there not still be a yearning for the homely blossoms here?
Does the recompense of heaven
To the lavish love here given
Holds gifts within its keeping that will banish every tear?

And I wonder if the blooms,
Intermingling their perfumes
In the holy dells of heaven in their sisterhood embrace
Tender blossoms such as we
Cherish here so lovingly,
And if among the wreaths and tufts the sweetbrier finds a place

Pretty blossoms, loved of old,
Dear the lyrics they enfold,
Fading, fadeless things commingled by the spell of memory;
Blossoms sweet of opal hue,
Dainty petals drenched with dew,
Typical at once of changeless and of changeful destiny. —Rosaline E. Jones.

Chances of Life.

These life insurance tables that show the expectation, the average, the probability of life are very curious and interesting. In a million births the males outnumber the females 22,000, but the girls don't die so fast, and by the time they reach 50 years the females begin to outnumber the men and outlive them. Nine thousand more women live to see 70 years than men, taking a million as the basis. Two thousand more women than men live to see 90. At 100 years there are 79 men to 111 women. The males start out most numerous, and this is right, for it gives every girl a fair chance for a lover and a husband—and it certainly was intended by a kind Providence that she should have one. She is entitled to one, and if I had my way I would make [illegible] marry or support one.

If he wouldn't marry according to nature, I would make him work for one. In youth and middle age the males out number the females, because it takes a good number to defend the country and do the fighting. But the old women outlive the old men because they are needed to nurse us and raise the grandchildren. They have no bad habits that shorten life. They do not drink nor chew tobacco, nor smoke, nor expose themselves, nor eat in a hurry. They take life calm and serene. One hundred and twenty-five thousand children are born every day. What a squalling and rejoicing if one could hear it all at once. Just think of it—45,000,000 of brand new human beings in a year. But they don't stay long, not many of them. One-fourth of them die before they are six years old. While 125,000 are born in a day there are 102,000 funerals going on at the same time. What weeping and wailing, what grief and sorrow if we could hear and see it all. Verily the increase of the human famil is mixed with great tribulations. Births and deaths, births and deaths, with the births only a little ahead, and sometimes, when war and pestilence and famine come the death rate is ahead.—Bill Arp in Atlanta Constitution

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA

These twin diseases cause untold suffering. Doctors admit that they are difficult to cure—so do their patients. Paine's Celery Compound has permanently cured the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia—so say those who have used it.

"Having been troubled with rheumatism at the knee and foot for five years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often confined to my bed for weeks at a time. I used only one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and was perfectly cured. I can now jump around, and feel as free as a boy." FRANK CARROL, Eureka, Nevada.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Props., Burlington, Vt.

"Paine's Celery Compound has been a God-send to me. For the past two years I have suffered with neuralgia of the heart, doctor after doctor failing to cure me. I have now taken nearly four bottles of the Compound, and am free from the complaint. I feel very grateful to you." CHAS. H. LEWIS, Central Village, Ct.

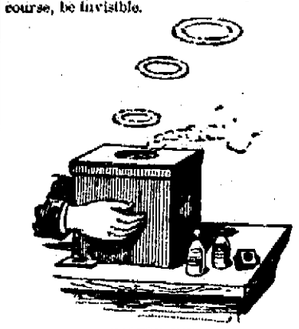
SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

POPULAR SCIENCE NEWS SURE TO INTEREST WIDE AWAKE READERS.

How Vortex Rings May Be Produced a: Will by Means of Very Simple Apparatus. Curious Way of Dividing an Apple Into Halves.

Every one has noticed the symmetrical wreaths of smoke and steam occasionally projected high into the air on a still day by a locomotive; similar rings may often be noticed after the firing of a gun. It is not uncommon to see a smoker forming such wreaths with his mouth. These rings are simply whirling masses of air revolving upon axes curved in annular form, the smoke serving to mark the projected and whirling body of air, thus distinguishing it from the surrounding atmosphere. The whorls would exist without the smoke, but they would, of course, be invisible.



VORTEX RINGS.

All the apparatus needed for producing these rings at will, explains a correspondent of Scientific American, from which journal the annexed cut is reproduced, is an ordinary pasteboard hat box, having a circular hole of four or five inches diameter in the cover. Two pads of blotting paper are prepared, each consisting of six or eight pieces. Upon one pad is poured a small quantity of muriatic acid, and upon the other a similar quantity of strong aqua ammonia. These pads are placed in the box and immediately a white cloud is formed, which consists of particles of chloride of ammonium so minute as to float in the air.

By smartly tapping opposite sides of the box a puff of air is sent through the circular opening of the cover, carrying with it some of the chloride of ammonium. The friction of the air against the edges of the cover retards the outer portion of the projected air column, while the inner portion passes freely through, thus imparting a rotary motion to the body of air adjoining the edge of the cover, the axis of revolution being annular. After the ring is detached the central portion of the air column continues to pass through it, thus maintaining the rotary motion.

When two rings are projected in succession in such a manner as to cause one to collide with the other, they behave much like elastic solid bodies. By making the aperture in the box cover elliptical, the rings will acquire a vibratory motion. By fastening the box cover loosely at the corners, the box may be turned upon its side and rings may be projected horizontally. It is obvious that smoke may be used in this experiment in lieu of the chloride of ammonium.

Is the Earth in Danger from the Drill?

Professor J. F. Jones answers, in a recent issue of The Popular Science Monthly, the question, "Is it safe to drill the earth too much?" The professor assumes the earth to be a hollow sphere filled with a gaseous substance, called by us natural gas, and he thinks that tapping these reservoirs will cause disastrous explosions, resulting from the lighted gas coming in contact with that which is escaping. He compares the earth to a balloon floated and kept distended by the gas in the interior, which, if exhausted, will cause the crust to collapse, affect the motion of the earth in its orbit, cause it to lose its place among the heavenly bodies and fall in pieces.

Another writer thinks that drilling should be prohibited by stringent laws. He, too, thinks there is a possibility of an explosion.

Still another theorist has investigated the gas wells with telephones and delicate thermometers, and he announces startling discoveries. He distinguished sounds like the boiling of rocks, and estimated that a mile and one-half or so beneath the Ohio and Indiana gas field the temperature of the earth is 3,500 degs.

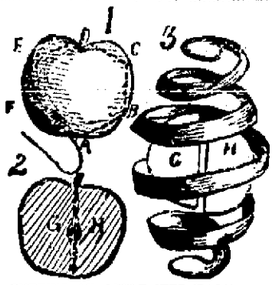
Age of Parents and Vitality of Children.

Mr. J. Korosi, director of the Hungarian bureau of statistics, recently read a memoir before the Hungarian Academy of Sciences upon the "Influence of the Age of Parents upon the Vitality of Children," and in which, taking 24,000 cases as a basis, he reaches the following conclusions:

Children whose father is less than 20 years of age have a weak constitution. The issue of fathers of between 25 and 40 years are the strongest, while the descendants of fathers of over 40 years are weak. The healthiest children are those whose mother has not reached 25 years. Those born of mothers of between 35 and 40 years of age are 8 per cent. weaker, and those of mothers of over 40 are 10 per cent. weaker. The children of aged fathers and younger mothers have, as a general thing, a strong constitution; but if the parents are of the same age, the children are less robust.

Cutting an Apple Without Injuring the Skin.

To cut an apple into halves without injuring the skin, while not a new trick, is an exceedingly clever one, and is herewith described for the benefit of the uninitiated:



CUTTING AN APPLE INTO HALVES.

Take a fine needle threaded with a piece of strong silk, and pass it through the apple in the direction A—B (see cut). After pulling the needle through, pass it again from B to C, and so follow the dotted lines until A is reached again, and the silk thread completely encircles the apple, underneath the skin. By pulling carefully upon the two ends of the thread it will cut entirely through the apple, dividing it into two parts, and when it is peeled, if care is taken to cut pretty deeply, it will fall apart, much to the wonderment of those who have previously noticed the skin to be whole and unbroken. The same method may be used to divide the apple still farther into quarters or eighths, if one has the necessary patience.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Dainty White Curtains, Graceful Valances of Soft Silk, Pretty Over Doors, Etc.

Curtains come into a good deal of notice at the present time, and also window blinds. The soft white mull muslin curtains, with hemmed frills drawn back and tied with very large bows of colored silk, are charmingly fitted for country cottages and continue to be used. Others have broad ribbon folded in half run in and out near the edge, then spread out full width and tied in large bows where the curtains are looped back. Some beautiful lace curtains have bands of colored embroidery to match. Very large silk or worsted tassels, made in the colors of the curtain, are sometimes set close together to form a valance.

A portiere hung before a door or very large window may have a piece cut to form a valance, draped over the thick curtain pole. This has a very graceful effect. This is also done with soft silk, over a lace or art muslin curtain. Some new window blinds have an insertion of coarse lace or applique linen on net, after the style of Holbein work, near the edge.

It is still much the fashion, as summer comes on, to lay matting on the floor and scatter small rugs about, in eastern style. Occasionally matting is laid on the walls, as a dado, or up to the ceiling; and fringes, corresponding, are carried across the ceiling, merging in the center, where a large eastern looking lamp probably hangs.

The pretty "overdoors," or railed shelves, are rapidly gaining in favor. They are painted to correspond with the room, and look like little straight or curved balconies, with or without a bracket above, holding china ornaments. They are to be seen in bedrooms as well as boudoirs, and any village carpenter could make them, and the enameling could be done at home. They fit the top of the door, are fixed to the wall, and are about six inches high.

Hot Tea Cakes.

Nice hot cakes for tea can be made by the recipe following: Mix together one pound of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt, and if liked a little sugar; then rub into it two ounces of butter and make it into dough, with about half a pint skim or buttermilk. Work the dough as lightly as possible; roll it out about three-quarters of an inch thick and cut into cakes with a cutter. Bake in a moderate oven, and when done pull the cakes open with two forks, butter well inside, put them together again and serve hot; or the ingredients may be made into a batter just stiff enough to run, which can be dropped by spoonfuls on a well greased tin and finished off as above.

A Convenient Cushion.

On summer trips and country excursions, especially when an invalid is of the party, a comfortable cushion is a great convenience. The accompanying cut represents a very serviceable and sufficiently handsome one.

A TRAVELING CUSHION.

The cover of this cushion is made of strong gray linen and buttons together at the back, so that it can be easily removed and washed when soiled, provided the embroidery is done in washable silk. Claret color is very pretty for the embroidery, which is carried out in the design given, in satin and chain stitch, point Russe and French knots. A red silk cord fashioned into a loop serves as a handle.

Gasoline Stoves for Cooking.

This is the season for the buying and using of gasoline stoves, which stand out prominently among modern appliances for lightening the burdens of housekeeping in hot weather. These stoves appear to be growing rapidly in favor, especially for use in homes where no servants are kept. One housewife who has had experience with them says they rob cooking of its most wearing feature, the intense heat of a kitchen in which a wood or coal stove or range is in use in summer. Meals are quickly prepared and the fire can then be at once extinguished.

The importance of care in the use of gasoline as fuel cannot be too strongly emphasized, and purchasers should spare no pains in learning the nature of this fluid and impressing upon all in a household that carelessness is not to be tolerated in the management of a gasoline stove. On the other hand, it is only by gross carelessness and the most willful refusal to adhere to instructions in the operation of stoves as now constructed that an accident is possible in their use.

Most stoves are now so made that it is impossible to fill them while the burners are lighted, but if a stove is sold not so constructed the purchaser should never fail to turn out all burners before filling. With lay down tanks and other devices it is impossible to overflow the tank or spill oil on the floor. If this is done, the burners should not be lighted until the fluid has been wiped up and doors and windows opened, and the room thoroughly aired, so there should be left in the room little or no gas from evaporation.

As to the cost of running a gasoline stove, this is in part a matter of good management. If the stove is not lighted until the articles to be cooked are ready to be put over the fire and is promptly extinguished when no longer needed, much waste of fuel is avoided. A good rule is never to keep a burner going unless something is cooking over it. Of course it will often happen that it is desirable to lower the flame when it is soon to be used again rather than to extinguish it entirely. In a household where prompt meals and systematic work prevails gasoline need not be an expensive fuel; at least such is the experience of a number of thrifty housewives.

Lemon Sponge.

For lemon sponge, soak two ounces of isinglass, one-half pound of sugar and the rind of a lemon, with the juice of three large or four small lemons and a full pint and a half of cold water, for twelve hours in a pan with a cover; then boil it all up for ten or fifteen minutes, strain it and set it aside till cold. Beat the whites of two fresh eggs to a stiff froth, and then whisk them into the above mixture till quite white, put it into a mold and do not touch it till perfectly set.

Prune Pudding.

Stew half a pound of prunes till they are very soft; put them through a colander, sweeten and flavor with vanilla. Beat the whites of four eggs very stiff; then beat in the prunes, place in a dish and bake till it will not stick to a straw. Make a custard of the yolks, and after the prunes are baked pour it over them.

Oilcloth Restorer.

An old English receipe for restoring brightness to oilcloth is as follows:

Melt one-half of an ounce of beeswax in a saucer of turpentine. Rub the surface of the oilcloth all over with the mixture, and then rub it with a dry cloth.

Matters of Importance.

They were in the conservatory at an evening party, and there, amid the perfume of the roses and posies, he had fervently declared his passion.

"Mr. Sampson, George," she responded, with womanly tenderness, "my heart has been wholly yours for months, and now," she went on, shyly taking his arm, "you may take me in to supper; I heard it announced when you first began those words of love which have so blissfully changed all the colors of my life."—Harper's Bazar.

Blood Will Tell.

Phyllis (sotto voce)—Why don't you acknowledge his courtly salutation, Dorothy? Is it because his father was in soap?

Dorothy (in whispered warmth)—Yes, my family traditions are against cultivating such an acquaintance.

Phyllis (soothingly)—Pardon me, dearest, I did not mean to wound you. But were all your ancestors tramps?—Munsey's Weekly.

HISTORY DONE OVER.

A Newly Discovered Anecdote of Queen Elizabeth.

The March wind was swirling and soughing drearily as Sir Walter Raleigh ascended the steps to the palace and inquired of the Grand Duke of the Vestibule if her majesty was at home. That individual, turning to the Goldstick in Waiting, repeated the question to him, and he in turn interrogated the First Lady of the Front Staircase, who promptly communicated Sir Walter's request for information to the proper authorities, the result being that the courtier was informed that her majesty was in and would be pleased to have him call again next week. This Sir Walter, concealing his discomfiture, proceeded to do, remarking to the queen when next he met her that she had treated him in a very wintry manner the last time he called.

"No, my dear Sir Walter," replied her majesty; "the treatment accorded you was not wintry; it was summary."

"Ha!" smiled the courtier. "You were feeling coolly that morning."

"Wrong again, Sir Walter," was her majesty's quick retort. "I was not coolly disposed. Indeed I was much less Raw-ly disposed than usual."

"Were I your enemy, madame," quoth the courtier, "I should inform your majesty that the jest was good when first 'twas uttered by the third assistant game keeper on my great-great-grandfather's estates, some two hundred years ago, but as one of your majesty's devoted slaves I remember what is due your highness, and observe, 'Ha! ha!' Thy wit well nigh drives me to the verge of lunacy. Again your majesty will permit me to observe, 'Ha! ha!'"

"Laugh away, my dear Sir Walter," replied the queen, somewhat piqued; "but do not laugh too hard. Men have been known to laugh their heads off."

This story is interesting as showing Elizabeth's extraordinary ability in the art of repartee.—Harper's Magazine.

It Is All Right.

"I think I dropped a letter into the mail the other day without stamping it," said a man at the postoffice as he called for the chief clerk.

"If you did it has gone to the dead letter office."

"Has, eh? You must have known that it was a mistake."

"Yes."

"And you ought to have held it for inquiry?"

"We have our rules."

"And they are mighty impudent rules, let me tell you! The postoffice department needs overhauling, and I'll help to see it done!"

The next day the man returned, this time with a smile on his face, and said:

"You remember I was speaking about an unstamped letter?"

"Yes."

"I was much put out."

"Yes."

"Well, I want to apologize. That letter was directed to an acquaintance. In it I called him a liar and a horse thief. Last night I found out that I was mistaken. He hasn't got the letter and won't get it, and so won't know anything about it. The postoffice department is all right. Rules are all right. Clerks are all right. Have a cigar and press on to promotion and increased salary."—Detroit Free Press.

He Couldn't Strike.

He stood on a step ladder trimming the dead limbs out of a fruit tree, when a man came along with some tools in his hand and stopped and asked:

"How many hours are you putting in for a day's work?"

"I'm busy from daylight to 3 or 9 o'clock at night," was the reply.

"Don't you know that nine hours is a day's work?"

"I've heard so, but he won't let me off at that."

"Then strike on him."

"I can't very well."

"Dasn't you kick?"

"It wouldn't do any good."

"Some rich old cuss who wants to grind you into powder, eh?"

"Well, he keeps me at work. I believe I put in thirteen hours every day."

"Then you are a fool!"

"Maybe so."

"He ought to be talked to."

"Yes."

"Why don't you quit?"

"I would, you see, but I am the 'old cuss' you are talking about, and though my man can get his day of nine hours I have to put in three or four more, or things will get behind."—Detroit Free Press.

Would Go That Far.

"Say, come into the bank and identify me, will you?" he asked of an acquaintance on the street.

"Identify you as what?"

"As John Blank."

"Why, yes, I'll go that far, I guess, though perhaps it is taking a risk. I didn't know but what you wanted me to vouch for your honesty and respectability."—Detroit Free Press.

Not a Hardy Annual.

Traveler—See here! I thought this was an annual pass, but the conductor tried to take it up the first time I wanted to ride on it.

Superintendent—That's all right, sir. This is an annual pass. You can ride on it once a year.—Chicago Tribune.

LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver, and disease-preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

Young Ladies' Missionary Society.

The Young Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening, at the home of George Roberts A large number were present and a delightful time reported. During the evening a program of rare merit was given, consisting of music, reading and recitations.

The vocal duet, "Go where the mists are sleeping," was excellently rendered by Miss Alice Edwards and Mrs. J. Criswell Then followed a paper by Miss Rose Jacoby, subject, "Foreign Missions," that was replete with original thought and suggestions. Next in order was a piano duet by Misses Anna Wyatt and Lida Lewellen. Miss Nellie Edwards recited "Mary Magdalen," from Longfellow's Divine Tragedy, the scene being the tower of Magdala. Miss Kittie Thew delighted the audience with her rendition of "Lord We Pray Thee," from "Agnus Del," in Millard's Mass. Then followed the reading of reports and minutes of previous meeting and the exercises closed. A happy surprise awaited the guests in the shape of ice cream and cake served by the hostess. At a late hour the company dispersed, filled with the admiration for the delightful manner in which they were entertained.

The place of next meeting will be announced at a later date.

Go Climb a Tree.

The following from the Building and Loan News has advice in it that might well be heeded here in Marion:

A great many people are wishing at the present time that they could go to Paris and ascend the Eiffel Tower If we have any subscribers who feel this way we advise them to "go climb a tree" instead, and then invest the money of a European trip in a building and loan association.

A little tree climbing will pay just now, and this is specially the case about New York. It will give a chance to look over the real estate field, and pick out a lot to build on some of these days. This is the easiest way to make money that we know of. The most unobservant must be aware that real estate values in this neighborhood are mounting up and up. While the stock exchange is deserted the real estate board is crowded to inconvenience. There can be little doubt that this state of things has come to last some time. We give our friends notice that is going to be a city about New York harbor such as the world has never seen—such as the world could never feed or govern before steam and electricity reduced distances by a thousand per cent.

A young man who gets property within ten miles of the City Hall now, and sticks to it, will leave something worth while when he dies if he never makes another strike as long as he lives.

And so, in place of Mr. Greeley's famous advice to "Go West" we say, "Young man, go climb a tree," and reflect on what your eyes rest on

After you have picked out your lot you can soon save and borrow enough from a building association to put up your house.

Cheap Excursion to Cleveland.

Everybody can depend on a good time, enjoying one whole day in the Forest City. For particulars see small bills.

—The Conemaughs are not ready to concede that the Johnstowns thoroughly downed them in the game of ball Monday, and another game will have to be played to administer complete satisfaction. If the game comes off Frash has promised to have out his Kodak camera and photograph Sid Young in the act of catching a fly ball.

—Through the courtesy of C. G. Want we have a copy of the advance issue of this week's Frank Leslie's Newspaper. The illustrations of Johnstown flood scenes are marvelous works of art, and give the best views of the great deluge yet seen. Over one hundred copies have been ordered for Marion.

—The Bee Line excursion advertised for June 19, happens to be on the opening day of the New York-Cleveland series of ball games This will strike the lovers of base ball favorably, as many are very desirous of seeing Cleveland battle with the giants.

The school picnic held on Saturday, June 8th, was a decided success all the way through, excepting the crowd, which was not as large as was expected caused probably by the threatening weather, but there was a fair crowd present nevertheless. All present enjoyed themselves heartily and had plenty of good things to eat The usual pastimes were indulged in, and at night the entertainment was an excellent affair and appreciated by all. The program consisted of songs, declamations, dialogues, etc., all of which were very creditably rendered The addresses by Messrs. Hill, Monser and Bain, entitled, Past "Present" and "Future," were masterly, original efforts, and received deserved and special credit.
